Precision Communications
Dean Schaecher

It is my pleasure to convey to you the quality of work that Precision Communications did for our cabling infrastructure on our new school building. It was our desire to create a complete network that we could bring our current server infrastructure into, and have all components completely integrated. Not only did Precision Communications complete the request, but the cabling itself was so clean and professional looking. Many other contractors and technology vendors admired the work, and said it was the best they had ever seen. Careful detail was met to insure that the placing of switches, racks, and patch panels were ideal and worked well with the rest of our school. I truly appreciated the assistance, and recommendations, that Precision Communications gave us during the whole design and implementation process. They were very flexible, and understood that changes are always going to happen, and worked diligently to have the project completed on time. It was a great pleasure to have Precision Communications work on this cabling job with us.

If you have any other questions, please feel free to contact me.

Sincerely,

Alex Macdonald
Technology Coordinator
